KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

You should be aware that the price of Units can go down as well as up. The value of the Fund and its distributions (if any) may rise or fall. The following are key risk factors that may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:

Refer to Para 9 and 15 of the Prospectus for further information on risks of the Fund.

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to market risk
 - The prices of securities in the portfolio of the Fund and its Units and the income derived therefrom may be influenced by economic and political conditions, changes in interest rates, the earnings of the corporations whose securities are comprised in the portfolio of the Fund and the market’s perception of the securities. These may cause the prices of Units to go up or down as the prices of Units are based on the current market value of the investments of the Fund.
- You are exposed to the risk of investing in foreign securities
 - The investments of the Fund may be affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies and other restrictions and controls which may be imposed by the relevant authorities in the other countries.
- You are exposed to currency risk
 - As investments of the Fund are denominated predominantly in RMB, fluctuations of the exchange rate of the RMB against the currencies of denomination of the Classes may affect the value of the Units.

Liquidity Risks

- The Fund is not listed and you can redeem only on Dealing Days
 - There is no secondary market for the Fund. All realisation requests should be made to the Manager through its approved distributors. If there is a surge in realisations at any particular time, the Manager may impose a gate on realisations. If that happens, payment of realisation proceeds to you may be delayed.
 - In addition, you may not realise your Units during any period where realisation is suspended.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to equity risk
 - The Fund invests primarily in stocks and other equity securities, which are subject to market risks and are in general more volatile than investment grade fixed income securities. Units may therefore be subject to greater price volatility.
- You are exposed to PRC market risk
 - Investing in the securities markets in the PRC is subject to the risks of investing in emerging markets generally and the risks specific to the PRC market, including but not limited to a higher volatility than developed markets, less developed securities laws and regulatory frameworks, less public information on listed companies on such markets, lower trading volume and less liquidity, etc. Investments in the PRC will be sensitive to any significant change in political, social or economic policy in the PRC. Such sensitivity may adversely affect the capital growth and thus the performance of these investments.
- You are exposed to single country risk
 - Exposure to a single or limited number of countries also increases the potential volatility of the Fund due to the increased concentration risk as they are less diversified compared to exposure to specific regional or global markets.
- You are exposed to risks regarding RQFII status and RQFII quota
 - Investors should note that the Manager’s RQFII status may be suspended or revoked and that this may adversely affect the Fund’s performance by requiring the Fund to dispose of its securities holdings. Investors should also note that the Fund may not be allocated a sufficient portion of the RQFII quota from the Manager to meet all applications for subscription into the Fund and that redemption requests may not be processed in a timely manner due to adverse changes in relevant laws or regulations.
- You are exposed to repatriation and liquidity risks
 - Certain restrictions imposed by the Chinese government on RQFIIs may have an adverse effect on the Fund’s liquidity and performance. Any restrictions on repatriation of the invested capital and net profits may impact the Fund’s ability to meet redemption requests from Holders. Furthermore, as the China Custodian's review on authenticity and compliance is conducted on each repatriation, the repatriation may be delayed or even rejected by the China Custodian in case of non-compliance with the RQFII rules and regulations.

- You are exposed to tax risk
 - Investing in the Fund may have tax implications for a Holder depending on the particular circumstances of the Holder. Furthermore, by investing in securities issued by PRC tax resident enterprises, irrespective of whether such securities are issued or distributed onshore or offshore, the Fund may be subject to PRC taxes.
- You are exposed to financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") risk
 - The Manager may invest in FDIs for the purposes of achieving the Fund's investment objective and/or hedging and/or efficient portfolio management. The Manager may make use of FDIs as allowed in the Code, and for so long as the Fund is a Qualifying CIS, for such purposes as may be permitted under the Standards of Qualifying CIS. Investors should note that the Fund intends to use FDIs to meet its investment objective and it may have a higher volatility to its net asset value as a result of its investment policy. FDIs involve risks different from, and in some cases, greater than, the risks presented by more traditional investments. Some of the risks associated with FDIs are market risk, management risk, credit risk, liquidity risk, moratorium risk, capital control risk, tax risk and leverage risk.

You should be aware that your investment in the Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.
