KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends or coupons (if any) may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment and your principal may be at risk.	Refer to the “Risk Factors” and “Suspension Of Dealings” sections of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Price risk – the Shares, as well as the securities acquired by the Sub-Fund, are subject - as are any securities - to price risk. The risk of a decrease in the value of Shares, as well as the potential for an increase in their value, is usually greater in the case of an equity fund than in the case of a bond fund. • Equity risk – companies issue common shares and other kinds of equity-related securities to help pay for their operations and financial necessity. Equity securities can go down in price for many reasons. • Exchange rate risks – the Shareholders are subject to this risk due to the different currencies which may be involved, that is the currency with which Shareholders have purchased Shares, the reference currency of the Sub-

Fund or Class concerned and the currency of the securities in which the Sub-Fund invests. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Counterparty risk – in entering into transactions which involve counterparties, there is a risk that a counterparty will wholly or partially fail to honour its contractual obligations. In the event of a default, bankruptcy or insolvency of a counterparty, the Sub-Fund could experience delays in liquidating the position and significant losses. The Sub-Fund may only be able to achieve limited or possibly no recovery in such circumstances. • Liquidity risk – the Company may invest in securities and instruments that can be relatively illiquid which may cause the Company to lose money or incur extra costs when selling those securities. The Company shall ensure that there is an appropriate level of liquidity so that under normal circumstances repurchase of Shares may be made promptly upon request by Shareholders.
Liquidity Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Sub-Fund is not listed and you can redeem only on Valuation Days. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ There is no secondary market for the Sub-Fund. All redemption requests should be made to the Administrative Agent through the Singapore distributor through whom the Shares were purchased. ○ If redemption requests are received in respect of any single Valuation Day for redemptions beyond a certain limit, the Company may delay the calculation of the redemption price and payment may be made, with the approval of the Shareholders concerned, in specie. • In addition, you may not redeem your Shares during any period where redemption is suspended.
Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Equities risk – investing in equities may offer a higher rate of return than those in debt securities. The risks associated with investments in equities may also be higher, because the investment performance of equity securities depends on factors which are difficult to predict. Such factors include the possibility of sudden or prolonged market declines and risks associated with individual companies. The fundamental risk associated with any equity portfolio is the risk that the value of the investments it holds might decrease. Equity security values may fluctuate in response to the activities of an individual company or in response to the general market and/or economic conditions. The Sub-Fund is subject to market fluctuations and investors may not get back the initial amounts they invested.
